All the things we never know we need Looks like we get them in the end Measure time in leisure time and greed And by the time we get to spend A floating bed A head of stone A home plugged into every phone Kimono coral floral print Exclusive tint and cut reclusive

No it doesn't come for free But it's the price We pay for happiness

No don't talk about more to life than this Dream a world maybe no one owns
No don't think about all the life we miss
Swallow doubt as the hunger grows
Make believe its like no one knows
Even if we turn more to most
We'll never satisfy the hungry ghost

All the stuff we know we never want Seems like we get it anyway Safe to say it isn't really wrong Not when we know we only... Throw it all away

Yeah all of this we never know we want
Its like we get it anyway
Safe to say it isn't ever wrong
Better to get than to delay
A 3d screen
A cleaner fit
A bit pulled out of every hit
Addicted latest greatest piece
Design caprice and make the headline

No it doesn't come for free But it's the price We pay for happiness

No don't talk about more to life than this Dream a world maybe no one owns
No don't think about all the life we miss
Swallow doubt as the hunger grows
Make believe its like no one knows
Even if we turn more to most
We'll never satisfy the hungry ghost

And all of this We know we never need Well it's the price We pay for happiness
