

Don't You Know

The Dave Clark Five

Don't you know, know, know, know, know
Don't you know, know, know, know, know

Can't you see the pain and the misery
If you want to go then I'll set you free
Don't you know, know, know, know, know
Don't you know, know, know, know, know

Since you left me alone
I just sit each night at home
Don't you know, know, know, know, know
Don't you know, know, know, know, know

By the way that you torture me
By the way that you're hurting me
Oh yeah, I'm gonna see you go
I'll doubt you no no no no

Don't you know, know, know, know, know
Don't you know, know, know, know, know

First you tell me all those lies
Now the tears fall from my eyes
'Cause you know know know know know
Don't you know know know know

By the way that you torture me
By the way that you're hurting me
Oh yeah, I'm gonna see you go
I'll doubt you no no no no

First you tell me all those lies
Now the tears fall from my eyes
'Cause you know know know know know
Don't you know know know know

'Cause you know know know know know
Don't you know know know know
'Cause you know know know know know
Don't you know know know know
