Shaman's Blues

There will never be Another one like you There will never be Another one who can Do the things you do, oh Will you give another chance? Will you try, little try? Please stop and you remember We were together, anyway, all right And if you have a certain evenin' You could lend to me I'd give it all right back to you A how it has to be with you I know your moves and your mind Will you stop and think and wonder? Just what you'll see Out on the train yard Nursin' penitentiary It's gone, I cry out long Go head, brother Did you stop it to consider? How it will feel Cold, grinded grizzly bear jaws Hot on your heels Do you often stop and whisper? It's Saturday's shore The whole world's a savior Who could ever, ever, ever Ever, ever, ever Ask for more? Do you remember? Will you stop? Will you stop? The pain And there will never be Another one like you There will never be Another one who can Do the things you do, oh Will you give another chance? Will you try, little try? Please stop and you remember

The Doors

We were together, anyway, all right

How you must of think and wondered How I must feel Out on the meadows While you run the field I'm alone for you And I cry

The sweat, look at it Optical promise Heh, heh, heh You'll be dead and in hell Before I'm born Sure thing Brides maid The only solution Isn't it amazing?
