

The Shallow End

The Duskfall

Do I have the right to live? I made this motherfucker ignite.
And everything burned down, just so I could build it up again.
With a heavy load, with a stronger plan,
with a deeper thought, became a stronger man.

The ways we fail, it makes no difference.
Failure is failure, doesn't it make sense?

Keep all things intact, stay quiet, do not react.
Die comparing what you've created.

Evolving of the extreme, becoming more insane.
Emerging from the shallow end, digging our own graves.
Just so I could build it up again.
With a heavy load, with a stronger plan,
with a deeper thought, became a stronger man.

The ways we fail, it makes no difference.
Failure is failure, doesn't it make sense?
