

Blood Of Eden

The Flower Kings

We're the third from the sun
We're a beacon and a seventh wonder
We are green and we are glowing
We're the one and eternal mother

We're a fleet among stars
We're a homeworld in constant changes
We are stardust and we're sun kissed
We are brothers and still we're strangers

Is there someone out there who rise above the stars
Who can tell us who we are
Are we blood of Eden?
What's the key to freedom?

With a king at your door
You were sleeping with one eye open
Now they're waiting in the backyard
No replacement for a lifeline broken

Is there someone out there who rise above the stars
Who can tell us who we are
Are we blood of Eden?
What's the key to freedom?

We are clueless and cold, hanging on a thread
We could be much more but we're just not ready
So we're killing time and we close our eyes
We're that one trick pony, waiting on a sign
