

Look Out Sunshine!

The Fratellis

Well look out sunshine, here they go
They got yesterday's heroes and last night's clothes
You're a game, oh boy, judging by the way you walk
But there's no use telling me to leave
I've seen a half of dozen goals but I don't believe
I'm a cynical 'con and I'm much too lazy to change

And I tell my friends I'll be around
Care in no where, sleeping somewhere
With a girl I dreamed, oh yeah
I'll sing my old song
How does it go?
Look out sunshine
It's the punch line
No one cares you anymore

Well look out sunshine, here they come
But they only play for money
Your band on the run
It's a sell out show
That no one wants to go to, yeah

But there's no so blindness but they don't agree
Steal the money from your papas
So most vicious leave
Oh boy, we are much too crazy to change

And I tell my friends I'll be around
Care in no where, sleeping somewhere
Where oh can our dream go... yeah
I'll sing my old song
How does it go?
Look out sunshine
It's the punch line
No one cares you anymore

But what do you mean?
You were born to love this scene
And they'll string you up gladly
You're just too lazy to be

Tell my friends... I'll be around...

I tell my friends I'll be around
Care in no where, sleeping somewhere
With a girl I dreamed, oh yeah
I'll sing my old song
How does it go?
Look out sunshine
It's the punch line
No one cares you anymore

No one needs you anymore...
No one cares you anymore...
