

Silly God Disco

the Gazette

It is cheesed with power and the morality of which it goes mad
A lot of people became dogs having tied to the chain
Your happy happy there?

I want to be enjoying the life though it will knock against a high, wall her eafter
Im already dead however I was saved with the rock

I swore I at that time. I will walk life that shines highest There is no fear. It gets it over though there is a painful day too Now lets go. The wing expands and goes, to look for freedom and the glory
The world that extends to the place waits, surely for you
