

Are The Roses Not Blooming?

The Judds

Are the roses not blooming this morning
Has the sun lost it's beautiful ray
Have the children no reason for laughing
Or my darling are you walking away
Has the sky lost it's brilliant blue color
Are the robins
Not singing today has that river
No reason for running
Or my darling
Are you walking away
Has my heart found a reason
For breaking in two
Have my eyes found a reason to cry have my ears heard the voice of a stranger
Or my darling
Are you saying goodbye
Has the earth lost
It's power for turning
Has the winter decided to stay
Are the roses not blooming this morning
Or my darling are you walking away
Are the roses not blooming this morning
Or my darling are you walking away
Or my darling are you walking away
