

Harder On You

The Knack

You know it's gonna be hard on me
Feeling the way that I do
I know it's gonna be harder on you

It's sad girl seeing this side of you
That lonely look in your eye
And no words I'll ever confide to you
Will hide the tears that you'll cry
There isn't a way of making this easy
I'm feeling it too you've got to believe me believe me
And though it's gonna be hard on me
Feeling the way that I do
I know it's gonna be harder on you

Can't sleep I'm hopelessly stumbling
Into and out of your bed
Can't think my thoughts are a jumble and
Fear's playing tricks on my head
Don't turn away and pretend you're not crying
I may appear strong but inside I'm just dying dying
This hurts but I've got to face it
Although it's so hard for me to
I know it's gonna be harder on you

What's the use in waiting
Why drag it out
The sooner we let go my friend
The sooner we can start again
I never would change one thing about you
It won't be so easy living without you without you
And though it's gonna be hard on me
Feeling the way that I do
I know it's gonna be harder on
I know it's gonna be harder on
I know it's gonna be harder on you
