

The Feeling I Get

The Knack

it's awful hard no it's not very easy for me to be what i am and to be what they want me to be i die a little each time you sigh you don't see the future i see and the feeling i get is you don't wanna feel it with me it's give and it's take so you take what you think you will need you think it can last if they'd quit messing 'round with the speed and when i slip and i start to cry 'cause it's not the way it should be then the feeling i get is you don't wanna feel it with me hold me hold me won't you ever be mine don't you see you're my destiny so fine oh so fine

it's all very well to believe that what will be will be but the way that it feels when you're fast in my arms holding me it sends a shiver all down my spine your touch is electricity but the feeling i get is you don't wanna feel it with me
