Machine Gun

The Living End

Like a machine gun you command Always in control and making plans Never one to give a second chance

And never one to walk away Or settle for the easy way out Never one to walk away 'Til you lose your game

Battle in the old town Battle in the old town They'll take it all away from you Better give it up now You'd better give it up now They'll take it all away from you

You're getting closer to the edge Shot, paranoid, running scared And you're about to lose it, so choose it Don't do what you'll regret

And never one to walk away Or settle for the easy way out Never one to walk away 'Til you lose your name

Battle in the old town Battle in the old town They'll take it all away from you You'd better give it up now You'd better give it up now They'll take it all away from you

I see through you I see through you I see through you I see through you