Pictures In The Mirror

The Living End

You know we tried to make you understand We tried to make you realise Her fame is down and time is up But somehow it don't seem enough 'Cos the world wouldn't listen anymore

Caught by social evil Wasn't streetwise after all Was she there at all?

Pictures in the mirror, pictures she never knew Pictures in the mirror, always reflecting you Not such an ordinary life

Pictures in the mirror
The sun goes down
The moon appears on the horizon
The streets are bare
She walks alone
