Sick in the Head

The Lumineers

People say I'm no good Write me off, oh yes they should Fuck 'em they're just sick in the head

They're writing my history
Think somebody should've asked me
Everyone was safe in their beds
Their beds

And I said

I won't live, won't live like them Everyone, they're all seeing red

I don't know
If it's alright with you, but I'll be gone
A ghost will be here in my stead, my stead

And I said

I can't live life underneath it all Everyone is older now and gone

I will not be here forever dear So let's just make this count a lot in here
