Heave

The Maccabees

Heave another heave another sigh We're the last sons Thought our heads had locked Heads have parted ways So headstrong we're the last sons

Are we so are we so are we so different

We're night and day still the same In the garland frame

Though we left a mark upon a cherub face Signs of love waste it all on the young

Are we so Are we so Are we so different