

When I'm at Home

The Maine

I will collapse so let's make this moment last I am alone
No, not because I'm lost because I'm found and I like the way it sounds when I'm at home don't say that I can't do it on my own

Then you did collide and broke through the other side straight to my heart You're the ember to my flame, when it gets dark
And I love the way it feels when I'm with you and I cannot find the words, no

Two-hundred thirty paces to my place,
Oh, I should not be alone
I'll burn this house down, no need for walls now
When I'm with you, I'm at home

Two-hundred thirty paces to my place,
Oh, I should not be alone
I'll burn this house down, no need for walls now Because, when I'm with you, I feel like I'm right at home

Two-hundred thirty paces to my place,
Oh, I should not be alone
I'll burn this house down, no need for walls now
When I'm with you, I'm at home, home, home,

I'm at home,
home,
home,

I'm at home.
