

I'll Be Alright Without You

The Marshall Tucker Band

Holding on to a memory
Trying to figure out just what went wrong
I wonder why you had to leave
But I'll be alright without you
Yes, I'll be alright without you
Trying to make the best of it
Holding back the tears 'most everyday
No, I break down, you know my heart won't quit
'Cause I'll be alright without you
And I hate to see tomorrow
Will it be lonely as today?
No amount of pain and sorrow
Can wash the tears away
When you decide to come back
Things will never be the same
You can't make love work
If your heart has lost the flame
Taking all the time we had
Well, I guess our love wasn't meant to be
Now the good times seem to turn all bad
But I'll be alright without you
Yes, I'll be alright without you
