Life's Not Life

The Moody Blues

Every ray of light Now reminds me of the day How come you went away So suddenly

It's kinda like you planned To run and hide from me Now life's not life no more Time to think it over You were just a lover You're much more than that now And now I fell In such a state of feeling down

And life's not life no more Life's not life No, life's not life no more I've slipped up for sure I slipped up But not enough to fall Life's not life no more I've slipped up for sure I slipped over Now I'm felling sore Life's not life no more.
