Who Are You Now

The Moody Blues

Who are you now First love of mine If you could see You'd reach out for me

In hallways And in secret doorways Were love's hiding places With nowhere to go Goodbye To the fields and byways I remember saying I don't want to leave Cos you, were all, there was to know About me

Somewhere On this crazy island A familiar stranger Sleeps so far away Wonder in the eyes of children And the smile of fortune Helps the memory fade Cos they are all there is to know About me

Who are you now
