

Tipping Point

The Motels

If I ever thought I'd make it out alive
If I ever thought I'd will it to survive
If I ever thought I'd see your face again I was wrong
Balance shifts, all is gone

One more straw, the toss of a coin
All is lost, all is gained
The powers anoint, the towers fall
You and me... the tipping point

When I looked I never saw behind your eyes
When you broke I never felt a bit surprised
And with the pieces on the ground I walked away
Nothing left for me to say

One more straw, the toss of a coin
All is lost, all is gained
The powers anoint, the towers fall
You and me... the tipping point
The tipping point

One more straw, the toss of a coin
All is lost, all is gained
The powers anoint, the towers fall
You and me... the tipping point
The tipping point

One more straw, the toss of a coin
All is lost, all is gained
The powers anoint, the towers fall
You and me... the tipping point
