You Didn't Try To Call Me

The Mothers of Invention

You didn't try to call me, why didn't ya try, didn't ya try? Didn't ya know I was lonely? No matter who I take home, I keep on calling your name And you, (I need you so bad), You're The One, babe

Tell me, tell me who's lovin' ya now 'Cause it worries my mind and I can't sleep at all I stayed home on Friday just to wait for your call And you didn't try to call me

Why didn't ya try, didn't ya try? Didn't ya know I was lonely? No matter who I take home, I keep on calling your name And you, (I need you so bad), you're The One, babe

Tell me, tell me who's lovin' ya now
'Cause it worries my mind and I can't sleep at all
I stayed home on Friday just to wait for your call I can't say what's right or what's wrong
But I love you!
All ya gotta do is call me babe
'Cause I want you!

You make me feel so excited girl I got so hung up on you from the moment that we met That no matter how I try, I can't keep the tears From running down my face I'm all alone at my place

You didn't try to call me, why didn't ya try, didn't ya try? Didn't ya know I was lonely? Why didn't ya try, didn't ya try, didn't ya know I was lonely? I stayed home all afternoon man I was working on my car, I fixed the upholstery I fixed the seat so it would tilt back We were going to go to the drive-in and you didn't call me man I waited, it was Friday night, I remember now It was nine o'clock and I was sitting on home I was still watching television and ya didn't try to call me We'd been going steady for six weeks and I thought you were my teenage prill I thought you were my teenangel man But you didn't call me I dig ya so much man, why didn't ya call me If you could have seen me in the afternoon I was hung up, I even washed the car I, I reprimered the right front fender man We were gonna go, we were gonna go out And get some root beer afterwards man And I was gonna show everybody my new carburettor And ya didn't try to call me
