You have to do it running but you do everything that they ask y ou to

'Cause you don't mind seeing yourself in a picture As long as you look far away As long as you look removed

Showered and blue-blazered Fill yourself with quarters Showered and blue-blazered Fill yourself with quarters

You get mistaken for strangers by your own friends When you pass them at night under the silvery, silvery Citibank lights

Arm in arm in arm and eyes and eyes glazing under Oh, you wouldn't want an angel watching over, surprise, surpris e, they wouldn't wanna watch

Another uninnocent, elegant fall into the unmagnificent lives o f adults

Make up something to believe in your heart of hearts So you have something to wear on your sleeve of sleeves So you swear you just saw a feathery woman Carry a blindfolded man through the trees
