This Crazy Love

The Oak Ridge Boys

It'll lead you on, it'll run you off Hurt twice as long when you're double-crossed It's hard to trust, this crazy love. It's a breaking heart at the bitter end Bouncing back just to fall again It's winning big or losing touch.

Wo-oh, this crazy love Wo-oh, this crazy love.

It gives and it takes when it's strong Nothing takes its place when it's gone First it's good news and then its good-bye But the good is worth the tears that you cry.

It'll fly you high; it'll shoot you down Toss you heart in the lost and found It pays rough, this crazy love. It's a game of hearts, the joker's wild A come on look or a tender smile Can raise your hand or call your bluff.

Wo-oh, this crazy love Wo-oh, this crazy love.
