

I Am Alive

The Parlotones

My dreams tend to whisper
I need them to scream out
All of their wonders
And all of their splendours
So I, I will believe in me

Those bridges are burned
Now troubled waters sweep me away
Into the seas, filled with my dreams
Now I believe in me

I figured me out, I figured me out
I figured there's nothing worth figuring out
I am alive and life is divine
Gently floating upstream

My dreams spoke too loud and woke me up
Up to the sounds, the sounds shout too loud
Get your head out the clouds
Obey the rules of my own construction

I figured me out, I figured me out
I figured there's nothing worth figuring out
I am alive and life is divine
Gently floating
Myself, me and I, we figured out life
Figured that life is the eternal prize

I am alive and life is divine
Gently floating upstream
Floating upstream

I am alive, I am alive

My dreams return to whisper
Try block out the sounds
Where hate seems to shout
And praise seems to whisper
In my little fragile insecure mind
My insecure mind
