

Heather Bells

The Real McKenzies

i will go back to my homeland to the land where i long to be i will go back now to my homeland to the land that's now a calling me [Chorus:]
it's no more my step will wander it is there i'll go and then i will find all i long for yonder when the heather bells will bloom again other ones will dream of their land as the land where they long to be and yer own land is aye a fair land but my scottish land is home to me [Chorus]
and yer own land is aye a fair land but ay highland place is home to me [Special End Chorus:]
but the spring is but a memory in my heart there's still a song so sweet & clear i can hear it calling from the scottish land where i belong
