

The Message

The Real McKenzies

The voice will carry 'cross the water.
You can hear it if you try.
Our message rides along the rising tide,
Clear to the other side.
The message echoes through the valleys.
Reflecting off the mountains high.
Out over deserts, through the canyons deep.
Here's a gift for you to keep.
Here is a message in the song
Tell you the message, sing along.
Let's pull together now and every time.
There's a chance we will survive
The message speaks in every city,
In every village, every town.
To all that worry of this troubled way.
We can change it all today.
Here is a message in the song.
Tell you the message, sing along.
No need to question 'cause we all know why
We can change it if we try.
Here is a message in the song
Tell you the message, sing along.
Let's pull together now and every time.
There's a chance we will survive
