

Sweeter and Sweeter

The Statler Brothers

Sweeter and sweeter, the days going by
Memories outnumber, the stars in the sky
The more I deny it, the more that I lie.
As the memories get sweeter,
I miss you and cry.

Gone are the days, when I was your hero.
And you were my princess, so perfect it seemed.
Then I took to picking, and you took to playing
And we both took to dancing in another one's dreams

Sweeter and sweeter, the days going by
Memories outnumber the stars in the sky
The more I deny it, the more that I lie.
As the memories get sweeter, I miss you and cry.

I was a loner, and you were a dreamer
And we both took ourselves too much to heart
And everyone knows if you don't grow together
Sooner or later, you'll grow apart.

Sweeter and sweeter, the days going by
Memories outnumber, the stars in the sky
The more I deny it, the more that I lie.
As the memories get sweeter,
I miss you and cry.

Sweeter and sweeter, the days going by
As the memories get sweeter, I miss you and cry.
