Bad Luck

The Story So Far

I try to rise and fall with sun But lately, it doesn't make any sense to me Walking by myself trap the silence in the hall And I can feel the pressure in my head I'm the book you always opened but you never read. Beside the box you call your bed

It's your fault I'd say I let this blind me Forlorn in sullen head Suffer your ill intent

Watch your mind ignore Just like all those times before That's the way it is And I won't write you back anymore There's better faces To fill all the spaces Left by the masks you wore

It's your fault I'd say I let this blind me Forlorn in sullen head Suffer your ill intent

Maybe that's the reason I was never enough Cause all I do is chuck it up to bad luck Unfinished business has me stuck Bad luck Bad luck
