I guess you're still too wild After all you said And did not mean

What hides behind the smile After all you said And made believe

Riding line doesn't sound so bad Just the wide open spaces Lots of time to reflect the past Lots of time to forget your face

Someone

I thought we talked about it all Somewhere
Who wrote the writing on the wall Somehow
It just took some time to reveal Someone
The lies were painfully real

Imagine for so long
After all you said
And would not say
Illusions are all wrong
After all you said
And could explain

Riding line doesn't sound so bad Just the wide open spaces

Someone

I thought we talked about it all Somewhere
Who wrote the writing on the wall Somehow
It just took some time to reveal Someone
The lies were painfully real

No more tears After all you said

Can't expect the clouds to clear
If you're left in darkness
Your reflection's not in the mirror
I suspect you're heartless
