

The Lens

Thee Oh Sees

Even though it's grey today
I can feel you near me dear
Even though life's pain today
I will be with you near me dear

And then we both arrive
At the same time, again
And then we're both alive
At the same time, again

Look through the lens today
All is cracked and hazy here, there
Hand in hand we will survive
I will love you always here, dear

And then we're both alive
At the same time, again
And then we both arrive
At the same time, again
