Deluded Son

My little friend I don't understand Where you begin And where you end I've seen you back and forth And left to right Always well within sight I am the one I am the one I am the one I am the one Deluded son I can collect The world round my neck All I have done I was compelled I've seen you back and forth And left to right Always well within sight I am the one I am the one I am the one I am the one Deluded son I am the one Deluded son
