

Daylight

They Might Be Giants

So here we are

Awake and dreaming

Oh don't look up, there's nothing there

Tilting at tilting things

Let's see what the daylight brings

Let's see what the daylight brings

Who needs diamond rings, picture frames, fancy things,

When paperbacks and radios tell the tale?

So nothing's fair

I'm worse for trying

While your eyes strain to see the air

Tilting at tilting things

Let's see what the daylight brings

Let's see what the daylight brings
