

Tears

Thompson Twins

Watch you dancing underground
It's not to synchronizing sound
What'cha you gonna do when your money comes through Gonna look about, shop around

Your best friend has moved away
Wouldn't stay another day
What's he gonna do when his words run out
And there's nothing left to say

You're putting on your smiling face
And you're dressing up with style and grace
But your tears you just can't hide

Now you're wondering what to wear
Cutting off your long black hair
What'cha you gonna do when the money comes through Gonna buy yourself a silver spear

You say exactly what you think
Battles with your pen and ink
What'cha you gonna do when the tide has turned
Well i hope that you won't sink

You're putting on your smiling face
And you're dressing up with style and grace
But your tears you just can't hide

See you stepping high and dry
Dressed in blue so you won't cry
What'cha you gonna do when he comes out
Gonna make up your own mind

You're putting on your smiling face
And you're dressing up with style and grace
But your tears you just can't hide

Tears you just can't hide
Tears you just can't hide
Tears you just can't hide
Tears you just can't hide
Tears you just can't hide
No, no, tears you just can't hide
