

Just Love Me

Tiffany Darwish

Anyone can make me smile
Hold me close, a little while
But noone could love me like i need

I've walked these streets enough to know eventually the cracks will show and the truth brings me to my knees coz we're all made of broken things...

Baby, just love me... yeah
Even though I drive you a little insane
Be my man and find a way to stay and
Love me... yeah
For my moving stones and my battle scars
and all my broken hearts
Baby, just love me...

You spend a life trying to be What you think someone else will need and never know just who you really are

And I think I feel the sun shining through laying here next to you but I'm still afraid it'll fall apart

Baby, just love me... yeah
Even though I drive you a little insane
Be my man and find a way to stay and
Love me... yeah
For my moving stones and my battle scars
and all my broken hearts
Baby, just love me...

Oooh baby, just love me

anyone can make me smile
hold me close, a little while

too afraid of broken things...

love me.

baby, just love me, yeah!!!
love me, love me...

baby just love me...
