Tomorrow in the Bottle

Timbaland

All I wanna do is makeup The best part I know

Broken promises Broken weddin vows Its hard as lookin down No, not even crack a smile (crack a smile) How can I support a child? Last time I had a job Its been awhile The question that remains so freely Why does thatta happen to me (to me) To wash away the pain I'm drinking I'm thinking

I waited for the day that Together we can find another way back But everything we've got at stake Lets worry about today and put tomorrow in a bottle If there's some way that we can take back The wrong that we've created We can change that Don't turn your head the other way You're gunna save today But tomorrow in a bottle Let's put tomorrow in a bottle Pack it up, seal it up, close the deal (the deal)

Girl you ain't right I apologize Don't be satisfied To what we had was gone away (hey hey) Every other day we cuss we fight (hey hey) And 2 wrongs don't make a right You had my head gone I did you dead wrong Singin that same old song Wonderin why you mad at me (at me) Now you understand my lingo We still gon' be people Baby this is how it should be I knew you'd be like that You was sposed to have my back Now we both don't know how to act Once I leave the door at my baby back

I waited for the day that Together we can find another way back But everything we've got at stake Lets worry about today and put tomorrow in a bottle If there's some way that we can take back The wrong that we've created We can change that Don't turn your head the other way You're gunna save today But tomorrow in a bottle Let's put tomorrow in a bottle Pack it up, seal it up, close the deal (the deal) All I wanna do is makeup

Said I never thought that all that the love we had would go away Now there's nothing left that you can say That's the way sh*t gunna be the same Cuz my back against the wall Now the conclusion to the story is the same

I was your bread and butter Like girl I put you on Now that I want that lovin back Why's the relationship so gone Like we established the fact That you was wrong from the get How am I sposed to fly in my ex From Tallahasee and back When a girl is scared of heights Said have you seen them jets Now put her in the back When the first class got delayed the snacks People can blame my past People can kiss my ass I'm at a loss for words Chad gon' sing the rest

I'm waitin for the day that Together we can find a way back But everything we've got at stake Lets worry about today and put tomorrow in a bottle If there's some way that we can take back The wrong that we've created We can change that Don't turn your head the other way You're gunna save today But tomorrow in a bottle Let's put tomorrow in a bottle Pack it up, seal it up, close the deal (the deal) All I wanna do is makeup
