

Ready, Set, Go!

Tokio Hotel

We were running through the town
Our senses have been drowned
No place we haven't been before
We learn to live and then

Our freedom came to an end
We have to break down this wall
Too young to live a lie
Look into my eyes

Ready, set, go, it's time to run
The sky is changing, we are one
Together we can make it while the world is crashing down
Don't you turn around

We are looking back again
All loneliness and pain
Never been so wide awake
Breathe slowly in and out

Somewhere behind the clouds
I can see the morning break
Too young to live a lie
Look into my eyes

Ready, set, go, it's time to run
The sky is changing, we are one
Together we can make it while the world is crashing down
Don't you turn around

Leave it all behind you now
The final wall is breaking down
We are what it's all about
Nothing can stop us now

I promise you right now
I'll never let you down

Ready, set, go, it's time to run
The sky is changing, we are one
Together we can make it while the world is crashing down
Don't you turn around

Ready, set, go, it's time to run
The sky is changing, we are one
Together we can make it while the world is crashing down
Don't you turn around

Don't you turn around
Don't you turn around
