Avenues And Alleyways

Tony Christie

Sleep like a baby, my little lady Dream till the sunrise creeps into your eyes Dream till the sunrise turns on the day

In the avenues and alleyways While you sleep there's a whole world coming alive Able and his brother, fighting one another in and out of every dive

The avenues and alleyways

Where the strong and the quick alone can survive

Look around the jungle, see the rough and tumble, listen to a s quealer cry

Then a little later in the morning paper read about the way he died

Wake up, my pretty, go to the city Stay through the daytime safe in the sunshine Stay till the daytime turns into night

In the avenues and alleyways Where a man's gotta work out which side he's on Any way he chooses chances are he loses, no one gets to live to o long

The avenues and alleyways

Where the soul of a man is easy to buy

Everybody's wheeling, everybody's steeling, all the low are living high

Every city's got 'em, can we ever stop 'em? Some of us are gonn a try
