Give Me Your Love Again

Tony Christie

The love I thought I did died was only sleeping
Sleeping for a while
And now I know I've gotta get you back again
Oh, now the tears are left uncried
Are now beginning falling from my eyes
Cause I miss you and I need you back again

Give me your love again
Give me a chance to show you my affection
Let me give you my protection
Pity me, save me, rescue me baby

Give me your love again
Give me the love I need
To keep me breathing
Give me something to believe in
Turn around baby
Give me your love again

The day we said goodbye
Was I unhappy?
No, no I didn't cry
I thought I knew I didn't need you
Ooh, the days went salling by
I got to thinking now I realize
I've thrown away these only thing worth living for
Oh, oh

Why don't you give me a chance to show you my affection?
Let me give you my protection
Pity me, save me...
