

Angel In Disguise

Tygers of Pan Tang

Searching for the words, I can't recall
They cuddled me at night, a long time ago
It's never too late, but it's yet too soon
If two makes one, I still need the proof

A place I could call my own
Someone I would love to show
There's more than meets the eye
My angel in disguise

Through the sunshine and the pouring rain
Across the oceans, unveiling the pain
A life alone is all I deserve
'Cos without you, I'm battered and cursed

A place I could call my own
Someone I would love to show
There's more than meets the eye
My angel in disguise
There's more than meets the eye
My angel in disguise
