

Dust

Tygers of Pan Tang

I see tail lights fading in the distance
In this darkest hour i never thought you'd leave
I reach out and question my existence
On this blackest night i never thought you'd leave

Caught on my blind side, what they did was unexpected
Taking everything then leave me for a fool
I cry out and swear that I will find them
When I do they'll wish they never broke the rules

I'm satisfied I finally found the truth
In a web of lies its hard to find the proof
Revenge is sweet when you've lost all hope of trust
Gonna burn you down...

I see red lines giving me the answers
Now my enemy where once you were my friend
You lie there and question your existence
As I watch your last breath until the end

I'm satisfied I finally found the truth
In a web of lies its hard to find the proof
Revenge is sweet when you've lost all hope of trust
Gonna burn you down ..

Gonna burn you down and leave you behind .. just like dust
Gonna run you down and leave you behind .. just like dust
Gonna burn you down and leave you behind .. just like dust
Gonna run you down and leave you behind .. just like dust
