I Won't Let It Die

Ugly Duckling

Wake up, I've got a real situation
So we need to move time's wasting
I could lose everything that I have
And I'm not sure what I should do, it looks bad
Can anybody shed some light
How do I transform death to life
Is there a way that I pay the cost
Or do I just fold and take the loss

Listen to yourself you sound so dramatic
Bro, I think you're coming at it all wrong
Start fresh, you don't have to feel stressed
The trouble's all gone, it's a brand new dawn

So wake up, that's yesterday
Turn the page, this story's ended
Move on, it's over now
Throw the towel in just forget it
No more, that's enough
Give it up, you look pathetic
Go now, dig the grave
Walk away but

I won't let it die
I won't let it die
I won't let it die
I won't let it die
At least I have to try, try, try
At least I have to try, try, try
At least I have to try

How did I miss the signs
Or did I find out and it slipped my mind
Truth is, I really didn't wanna know
Cause if I knew, I'd have to be responsible
Served my just desserts
And justice hurts the judge the worst
I guess I've got to come down from the pedestal
And try to find something incredible

Please stop dreaming, looking for a reason
Believing like that is hazardous
It's spilled milk, you don't have to feel guilt
You're not gonna bring back Lazarus

So wake up, that's yesterday
Turn the page, this story's ended
Move on, it's over now
Throw the towel in just forget it
No more, that's enough
Give it up, you look pathetic
Go now, dig the grave
Walk away but

I won't let it die
I won't let it die
I won't let it die

I won't let it die
At least I have to try, try, try
At least I have to try, try, try
At least I have to try

Your faith is slipping through your fingers
Hopes and shorts apply
Fear and pain are closing in
To take away your pride
You can't relax and rest in peace
At least we have to try
I'm here to fight, despite the odds
So God help me cause I won't let it die

I won't let it die
I won't let it die
I won't let it die
I won't let it die
At least I have to try, try, try
At least I have to try, try, try
At least I have to try

Won't let it go
Can't do it
