spent much time thinking about what i'm gonna do without you now that all my friends are sleeping in i can find the time to call this world wouldn't stop at all i'll ask you "what have you done yesterday"

a secret to be kept inside you're giving it another try this time you are up against yourself do you wonder why?

everyone's dying to know another bad taste to this show they hope to see you lose it's how it is
