

Off & Running

Viza

You are my queen through right and wrong.
You are my sin as I perform.
You went to war throughout me.

You are my script I've written well.
You are the ink that summons hell.
You went to war throughout me.

Now I've warned you my love, "Either way I'll remain."

You are the voice I know so well.
I'm off and running to your poison well.
You went to war throughout me.

I've given up.
I'll seldom slip.
I'm off and running.
When will you quit?
You went to war throughout me.

Now I've warned you my love, "Either way I'll remain."

If you ever need to see me all you have to do is just close your eyes.

When will you be true to me? Either way
When will you be at my feet? Either way.
