

Crack The Bell

Wall of Voodoo

{spoken:} Thanks a lot, thanks a whole lot.

Lulu sends her friends

They cover the mouths with one hand

Well, I keep waiting here

Drifting around in a dark land

Envelope unturned

« I push the stamp and stick it »

Chorus:

And I know there's a bell to crack

And I know there's a bell to crack

Well, I hear crosstalk now

Coming through the wire

One voice tells me yes

The other is a liar

Chorus:

And I know there's a bell to crack

I know there's gotta be one more bell to crack

« Click-clack, joint, » this thing is on my sleeve

All this mess around and I gotta clean it up

Okay, Mister Questions, you tell me, when are we gonna leave?

And can you design a heart□□a heart that doesn't bleed?

Chorus:

I know there's gotta be one more bell to crack

I know there's gotta be one more bell to crack

See the bell, so I crack it

You just can't find good bells anymore!

Yah! Yah! Sure!

Tom Shane's a friend of mine!

I really like him□□he's in the industry!

I know there's gotta be one more bell to crack

I know there's gotta be one more bell to crack
