

Rain

Warrel Dane

When i look into your eyes
I see the world spinning
Whisper me forward and master my fear carry me gently into your cure

With hands held shallow
Reflect upon tomorrow
Remembering the rain
We can live again

As we follow the hollow hills
Into the pit of our dreams
Can we relive the past
Or just drop to our knees

With hands held shallow
Reflect upon tomorrow
Remembering the rain
We can live again
Take my price an pull away
Remembering the rain
We can live again

I'm just a slave
Just a victim
Of multiple addictions

With hands held shallow
Reflect upon tomorrow
Remembering the rain
We can live again
