

City Lights

Wolfmother

Oh city lights have led you all this way
Where did they go tonight?
The sun is in my eyes and I'm here to find my new disguise

See the magic shining in your eyes
And that you're looking for tonight

You forgot
You forgot
You forgot about the city lights

No multi-talented dominions
Building mansions without doors
The neon of the lizard dancing on his technicolor glow

See the magic shining in your eyes
And that you're looking for tonight

You forgot
You forgot
You forgot about the city lights
You forgot
You forgot
You forgot about the city lights

Her street sweeper is watering flowers that you photographed last night
The butterfly has landed on the psychedelic satellite

See the magic shining in your eyes
And that you're looking for tonight

You forgot
You forgot
You forgot about the city lights
You forgot
You forgot
You forgot about the city lights

You forgot about the city lights
You forgot about the city lights
