

Asleep

Wolves At The Gate

Eyes wide in this reverie but it's all still dark as night
(I'm falling fast asleep)
Black tides of my misery coming down upon my sight
(I drown into the deep)
Is there but a ghost inside these bones?

Come now my darling
Come now beloved, My love it calls you

(Am I just a ghost inside these bones?
Walking as the dead; hearts made of stone)
Nightmares of my darkest fears all around crippled with fright
(I'm falling fast asleep)

Come now My darling
Come now beloved, My love it calls you
Come away My darling
Come now beloved, My love remains for you

I'm lost, so long
The spirit's willing but the flesh is weak
I hear your song
My fears are chilling so I dare not speak
(For you My blood was spilled)
But I made my bed in hell
(In you I see no guilt)
But You know how far I fell
(My friend be wretched, mourn and weep)
Oh, may it wake you from your sleep

(Am I just a ghost inside these bones?
Walking as the dead; hearts made of stone
Hasten up my feet so I may fly
Wash me now my God or I will die)

Black tides of my misery coming down upon my sight

Come now My darling
Come now beloved, My love it calls you
Come away My darling
Come now beloved, My love remains for you!

I'm lost, so long
The spirit's willing but the flesh is weak
I hear your song
My fears are chilling so I dare not speak

Though You know how far I fell
You've saved my soul from hell
