

Out of the Spotlight

Wynette Tammy

With the mornin' sun
The curtain rises each day
Until the day is done
We work our jobs and play our parts
Like actors on the stage
But when at five o'clock whistle calls
At night like the curtain falls

We step out of the spotlight
And slip into the dark
We step out of the spotlight
Into each other's arms

When the evenin' comes
We lock the whole world outside
And when the race is run
The night is a tender world of love
For only you and I
Gently your finger let down my hair
When nobody else is there

We step out of the spotlight
And slip into the dark
We step out of the spotlight
Into each other's arms
