Back to the River

Xandria

I can recall my name - but it was not the same
I fear I'd gone astray - I've almost gone insane

Sometimes I still can hear Echoes of silent fears But on that winter's day You swept them all away

These were the times when I longed for the river And I closed my eyes and you laid your hands down on me

Not just a burning sin - a candle in the wind It was so much more - I want to thank you for

I can see you, still my friend Still so deep inside of me

You filled my void, you let me fly You broke my chains, you showed me life You set me up, you made me true I was back at the river with you
