At the temple of black gods I failed again For you - a chilvarous end for a man Clandestine enthralling haze A docile sacrifice for your grace

Resurrect from the ban they put on you Fall again - you will - what they foreknew Only gods illuminate
And just a slave to be is my fate

And you will hear me
Siren's calls of temptation
Teasing you
No limit will be
No taboo of imagination
I'll fill your void

I will always savour you As I will always be your fool
