

30,000 Days

Yello

The sun is shining in my eyes
The ocean is a blue
I'm looking to eternity
Without any clue

And over nights, the years go on
And time to time, I have some fun
Will I ever trust me, letting me fall?
With no control, don't need it at all

Hours, minutes, seconds, days
Eventually a year passed by
I'm looking deep into my time
What have I done? And why?

Who's this crazy me lazy with his time?
Who's this crazy me? I wish my days were mine

30,000 days are shearing through my life
30,000 days, or is it just a dive?

And over nights, the years go on
And time to time, I have some fun
Will I ever trust me, letting me fall?
With no control, don't need it at all

Hours, minutes, seconds, days
Eventually a year passed by
I'm looking deep into my time
What have I done? And why?

Who's this crazy me playing on his mind?
Who will find it here? The key you'll never find?

Hours, minutes, seconds, days
Eventually a year passed by
I'm looking deep into my time
What have I done? And why?
